I volunteer (although I can't help but think of Katniss Everdeen in doing so ☺).

This should also help with comparing the cancer data across these chemicals. Also, these documents in Word and PDF (and the interagency comments received) can be found at the following location, separated by chemical.

Subject: RE: NCEA Division Directors Weekly meeting attendees and branch chiefs (Executive Council and Science Council)

Hello everyone:

You have all probably heard about the Executive Council that Ken has asked us to organize to review IRIS assessments prior to public release of the external peer review drafts and after peer review. Ken has asked that the invitees to the DD weekly meetings and the branch chiefs be a part of the Executive Council. So if you are receiving this email you are a part of the group!

To get us started, I am volunteering to lead a small group to write down the goals -- what we are generally looking to accomplish and how we will make assignments. I will pull together what I think the goal is as a draft and then work with the small group to come up with something to share with everyone. I anticipate having this completed by the first week of January.

I am asking Ted to also take a leadership role in diving into some cross-cutting science issues and expect that Paul will also be able to devote a chunk of time too ☺.

My vision of how things will work involves an integrated system where assessment managers, branch chiefs and disciplinary workgroups will tee up issues---and solve them or in some cases work through a more organized Science Council. I think that Vince has some ideas to fill in gaps at this level with CAST Version 2 (or something like that).

I expect that the Executive Council will be apprised of the issues that have arisen and been solved, and may also be involved in decision-making in some cases. This is in addition to having a new set of eyes or three on the assessments.

Any volunteers to join me?
Lynn
